Dear St. Ann Catholic Church Parishioners,

On behalf of the Archdiocese of Chicago, I regret to inform you of some difficult news. As you know, enrollment at St. Ann School has fallen in recent years, jeopardizing the future of the school. The low enrollment and corresponding large financial debt make it necessary to close St. Ann at the end of the current academic year.

I commend the dedicated leaders, faculty and staff of St. Ann School for their tireless work to foster an academically rigorous, faith-filled Catholic school community. St. Ann School has provided a strong education to generations of young men and women, helping them develop intellectually, physically and spiritually.

I am praying for the St. Ann Catholic Church and School communities.

Yours in Christ,
